Metanoia

First reading: Ezekiel 18:25-28

Responsorial Psalm: Remember your mercy, Lord.

Second reading: Reading from the letter of St. Paul to the Philippians 2:1-11

Gospel acclamation:

Alleluia, alleluia!

If anyone loves me he will keep my word,
and my Father will love him,
and we shall come to him.

Alleluia!

Gospel: Matthew 21:28-32

Jesus said to the chief priests and elders of the people, 'What is your opinion? A man had two sons. He went and said to the first, "My boy, you go and work in the vineyard today." He answered, "I will not go," but afterwards thought better of it and went. The man then went and said the same thing to the second who answered, "Certainly, sir," but did not go. Which of the two did the father's will?' 'The first' they said. Jesus said to them, 'I tell you solemnly, tax collectors and prostitutes are making their way into the kingdom of God before you. For John came to you, a pattern of true righteousness, but you did not believe him, and yet the tax collectors and prostitutes did. Even after seeing that, you refused to think better of it and believe in him.'

Notes from the sessions by Msgr Michael De Verteuil about "Extraordinary Ministers and Communion of the Sick" held at Living Waters on 17th September 2026

In 1973, Immense Caritatis, gave permission for lay people to serve as ministers in the distribution of Communion:

Let him (her) strive to be worthy of this great office; let him (her) cultivate devotion to the Holy Eucharist and show himself (herself) as an example to the other faithful by his (her) piety and reverence for this most holy Sacrament of the altar.

Let no one be chosen whose selection may cause scandal among the faithful.

Another facet of this important ministry-is Communion of the Sick- "I was sick, and you visited me." (Matt 25). They too are part of the Body and can easily be overlooked. They can feel cut off, alone, no longer a person as they cannot do what they used to do; life is meaningless. If no visits, it is particularly hard on those who were active in the Church., they may ask - has God forgotten me?
